Abstract

"The Middle Eastern Project" and Iit's Effects On The Arabian System.

Shadi Khalaf Mdanat

Mu'tah University, 2006

This Study aims at form a clear image about the reality of "The Middle Eastern Project" by analysing the reasons and the motives of its appearence, development, dimentions, and its different goals (political, economical, or cultural) to recognize the nature of the chalanges which it impose upon the arabian system.

This study handles the growth of the concept of the "Middle East" as a geographical frame, and the idea of "The Middle Eastren Project", and its relationship with the capitalist system, and its reflects on the arabian region because of its strategical importance.

Also the study handles with "The American Middle Eastern Project", and its developments since (1945), the time that the United States has led the capitalist system, this study will look in particular at the time period of the collapse of the Soviet Union (1990), to the receipt of the new conservatives to the authority (2001).

Also, the study handles "The Israelian middle Eastern project" and the basis which it built on, and its developments since the establishment of "Israel".

This study came to the conclusions which clerify the risks and the chalanges, that the project impose on the arabian system, and it suggests recommendations for dealing with this.
